Aha! I see you have the guts to click on something clearly labelled as danger.

You've earned my respect. Unless, of course, you skipped the game to save time – in which case, you've also earned my respect, because as they say, "time is gold"

٩(◕‿◕)۶. Here's a quick summary of who I am:

- Ethnicity: Chinese Filipino
- Hobbies: Language learning (Chinese & Korean), dancing, and gaming
- Fun fact: I'm ambidextrous! I fully exploited this skill during the HSC by switching hands every 10 minutes – or whenever one hand started to die. That was the first and last time this skill was ever useful TwT.

I hope to join the DevSoc trainee team to expand my social network, learn lifelong skills, and bring some energy to the team I'm assigned to. Hopefully, I'll get to see you around more often, Mr./Ms. Recruiter (◡‿◡) ♪.
